The Word Has It

MARBC Executive Director

“Strengthen me according to Your word,”

— Psalm 119:28

“Fire”

Those familiar with southern California know that the region frequently experiences wildfires. The paths of the fires are unpredictable. Dry conditions make even a small fire a giant problem. Wind currents can shift quickly and unpredictably as they move from valley to valley, making containment of the fires difficult.

One fire in that area a few years ago destroyed over 2,500 homes. As the home owners returned and sifted through the blackened debris, they found that all their possessions had been reduced to soot. However, as one family searched through the rubble where their home once stood, they discovered a familiar sight. There in the middle of the charred remains was a tiny porcelain rabbit that had sat on a coffee table in the family room. They marveled that so fragile an object had survived intact. Others whose homes were lost in the fire also found pottery and porcelain items that had endured the intense inferno.

The Sunday after the disaster a local pastor brought to the pulpit an unbroken vase. It was the only thing that he had been able to recover from his home. Holding the vase before his congregation he asked, “Do you know why this item is still here but my house is gone?” He answered his own question by replying, “Because this had passed through the fire once before.”

In his first New Testament letter, the Apostle Peter compares the imagery of fire to the trials that Christians will face during their earthly pilgrimage. Peter reminds his persecuted readers of the joy that is theirs because they possess an “inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for [them]” (1 Peter 1:4-5). He then shares this important principle regarding trials – “In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved by various trials, that the genuineness of your faith, being much more than gold that perishes, though it be tested by fire, may be found to praise, honor, and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ.” (1 Peter 1:6-7)

C. S. Lewis once observed that “Trials are not an elective in the Christian life, they are a required course. Patience is accepting a difficult situation without giving God a deadline.”

The imagery of fiery trials in Scripture relates to the intensity of the suffering like a smelter's furnace used to heat metal in order to purify it. As the heat intensifies, various impurities rise to the surface. The smelter can then skim the surface of the molten metal with a filter to remove those impurities. Similarly, the heat of spiritual trials brings the impurities of the believer's sinful nature to the surface where they can be removed through the filtering process of God's Word as enabled by the Holy Spirit. All of this is directed by a caring God in order to “forge” His children into His likeness and to strengthen them to face the extreme tests that life presents daily.

A ministry friend of ours, Deb (Jackson) Searles, wrote a poem several years ago that deals with the spiritual subject of fiery trials. Deb penned “The Fire” after experiencing her own personal trial. She then put these words to music. It was recorded by Deb and her sister, Dee, as well as by Christine Wyrzten.

CONNOR WESLEY HELMICK

Sharon and I pulled our first “all-nighter” since our youth ministry days on Thursday, May 28! We were summoned by a call from our son-in-law, Taylor, at 6 p.m. on Wednesday evening. Our daughter, Allison, had gone into labor! We made the trek from Grand Rapids to Canton, Ohio, and arrived at the hospital at 12:30 a.m.

We were blessed to hear the initial cries of our first grandchild, Connor Wesley Helmick, at 7:06 a.m. on Thursday, May 28. Connor checked in at 7 pounds, 1 ounce and 19 inches long. He has brownish auburn hair (he already has more hair than gramps - but who doesn't!) and has a set of lungs that qualify him as preacher material. We praise God for His wonderful blessing!

“THE FIRE”

I've been through a fire
That has deepened my desire
To know the living God more and more;
It hasn't been much fun,
But the work that it has done
In my life has made it worth the hurt.

You see, sometimes we need the hard times
To bring us to our knees –
Otherwise we do as we please
And never heed Him;
But He always knows what's best,
And it's when we are distressed
That we really come to know God as He is.

(“The Fire,” Words and Music by Deb Jackson, arranged by Christine Wyrzten, copyright 1981 by Singspiration Music / ASCAP)

In the songbook, “LifeSong,” Deb shares this testimony as a preface to her song, “The Fire”:

“In 1977 I went through several months of frustration and confusion that comes with physically caused depression. I never thought I'd make it through or ever be happy again. I hated it and I wanted to die. But I grew so much and God truly deepened my understanding of Himself and His plan. I can say now that it was worth the hurt!” The words paint a picture of trust in a God Who never allows things to enter the life of His children haphazardly.

Later in his first letter to suffering Christians, Peter shares that suffering and trials should not take Christians by surprise. “Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened to you” (1 Peter 4:12). In fact, suffering and trials give Christians the opportunity to be identified with Christ. Verse 13 encourages Christ's followers to “rejoice to the extent that you partake of Christ's sufferings, that when His glory is revealed, you may also be glad with exceeding joy.” Notice that the word “joy” is used three times in these two verses. Trials enable Christians to enter into a closer, joyful relationship with Christ. The Apostle Paul reminded the Philippian Christians of that possibility – “For to you it has been granted on behalf of Christ, not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for His sake” (Philippians 1:29).

Fiery trials allow God to refine us as Christ's followers, encourage others as they observe our faith while going through difficulties, and bring glory to God. It may be God's intention to use you and your fiery experience to impact the lives of others in order to bring God glory.

In the second century A. D., Polycarp, the Bishop of Smyrna, was arrested for heresy by the Roman government. He was arrested because he had refused to burn incense in tribute to the supposed lordship and deity of Caesar. Polycarp instead publicly declared his faith in Christ alone. He was threatened with execution unless he recanted his faith in Christ and declared his total allegiance to Caesar. Polycarp responded - “Eighty and six years have I served Him and He never did me any injury. How can I blaspheme my King and my Savior? Bring forth what thou will.”

Having heard Polycarp's statement, the Roman officer in charge of his execution stated, “I have respect for your age. Simply say, ‘Away with the atheists!’ and you will be set free.” By “the atheists” the officer was referring to the Christians who would not acknowledge that Caesar was “lord.” The old man pointed to the crowd of Roman pagans surrounding him and cried, “Away with the atheists!” Polycarp was burned at the stake and then stabbed to death when the burning did not kill him. His testimony and martyrdom brought glory to the name of Jesus Christ.

Fiery trials may be very painful, but by God's grace we endure them. As a result, our trust in God can emerge from the blazing furnace purer and stronger than it was before. In fact, it is our faith in Jesus Christ that helps shape our values. In God's plan, the Christian's life is not focused upon temporal possessions and ambitions, rather upon that which has long-term, spiritual value. That is the perspective God's Word frames for us.

These principles serve as timely truths for Christians and churches in the State of Michigan as we deal with the current difficulties encompassing us. Instead of questioning why God would want us to go through an extreme time of testing, it may be better for us to look for the opportunities that He is developing for us in order to bring Him glory through the trials.

If you are currently going through a “fiery trial,” seek God's insight through a careful study of His Word. There are precious things that He desires you to discover in the midst of the ashes.

– You have His Word on it! (KEF)

THE THIRD ANNUAL MARBC DAY OF “ONE ACCORD” PRAYER

“They raised their voice to God in one accord” – Acts 4:24

SEPTEMBER 27, 2009

Purpose: a day for MARBC churches to devote their attention to prayer for our churches, pastors, state fellowship, camps, ministries, missionaries, and special needs.

Ideas for Participation:

- Preach and teach on the topic of prayer in worship services, Sunday School, ABFs, and small groups. I.e., a study of the Disciple's Prayer in Matthew 5; prayers recorded in the Bible, the qualities of prayer, hindrances to prayer, etc.
- Plan a 24-hour prayer marathon or other prayer event leading up to Sunday. Materials related to various prayer events are available from the MARBC office.
- Join with a sister church or churches in your area for a special prayer service.
- Take a moment during the morning worship service to pray for the churches, pastors, camps, missionaries, and ministries of the MARBC. Pray also for sister churches in your area. Every church in the MARBC fellowship is encouraged to pause at the 11:00 a.m. hour on September 27 to come before the Lord praying in “one accord.” While worship and service times vary in our churches, most of our churches are assembled in some ministry setting at the 11:00 a.m. hour. This would also be a good time for deacons and/or other church members to pray on behalf of their pastors in anticipation of Clergy Appreciation Month in October.
- Use the special Day of Prayer to focus upon the ministries of the MARBC. Bulletin inserts, prayer cards and other literature are available to download at www.marbc.net or by contacting the MARBC office. Some MARBC churches receive a special love offering on behalf of the MARBC. The MARBC ministry office and Executive Director are supported by the love gifts from churches in the fellowship.

MARBC NEWS & NOTES

CHURCH PARTNERING RELATIONSHIPS (CPR) – Please continue to remember in prayer the over two dozen CPR projects scheduled this summer, many of them in the months of July and August. These partnerships include DVBS, canvassing, soccer camps, building, and maintenance projects. We praise God for the reports already received this summer of many coming to faith in Christ, churches strengthened, and building projects accomplished. As you travel around the State of Michigan this summer, why not find a sister church near your vacation site and plan to worship there on Sunday? Perhaps there is a “mini” work project that you and your family could do to encourage a sister church. Need ideas? Contact the MARBC office. A full CPR report will be included in the next issue of the Baptist Testimony.

downloadable messages, reports, and pictures are available online at www.garbc.org.

The National Talents for Christ scholarship competition was held in conjunction with the “Students Alive!” youth conference on June 25. We congratulate Alyssa Pyne, a senior from Evangel Baptist Church in Taylor. Alyssa received first place honors in the Oral Interpretation of the Bible (Open Division) category for her interpretation of God’s response to Job as recorded in Job 40-41. In 2007 Alyssa received the Woodwinds category 1st place award in the Scholarship Division. She plans to use her scholarship to attend Baptist Bible College this fall.

We encourage our youth and their churches to begin preparations for next year’s MARBC State Competition (April) and GARBC National Competition (June) TFC events.

FLINT, SOUTH BAPTIST CHURCH –

On Sunday evening, May 3, South Baptist Church held a special service for the purpose of ordaining Pastor Don Chapin. Pastor Don has served as Pastor of Student Ministries at the church for 7 years. On May 1, an ordination council made up of area pastors unanimously recommended that the church proceed with ordination. The service included a challenge from Pastor Don’s former youth pastor, Bud Hall, who currently is a pastor in Long Island, NY. Fellow South Baptist Pastors Larry Burk and William Payne also took part in leading the service. Many of Don’s family members were able to attend the service. A reception followed the service and a love offering was taken to enable Pastor Don to purchase books for his library. Pastor Don and his wife Laurie are blessed with 4 boys: Joshua, Jackson, Jason, Joseph. Congratulations Pastor Don!

GRAND RAPIDS, IGLESIA BAUTISTA BIBLICA (PAUL JOLES & LARRY GROAT, PASTORS) –

An exciting new Hispanic church planting endeavor was inaugurated on Sunday, April 5, in downtown Grand Rapids. Iglesia Bautista Biblica originated as a part of the City View Church ministry on Alpine Ave. NW. City View is itself a multi-cultural church plant that was started by several churches in the Grand Rapids area about twenty years ago.

The Hispanic outreach at City View has been growing numerically and spiritually the past few years. Recently, the ministry

GARBC ANNUAL CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS –

The Annual Conference of the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches was held June 22-26, at the church facilities of First Baptist Church in Elyria, Ohio. This year’s conference theme was “Cutting Straight.” The conference was highlighted by excellent Bible messages and several practical workshops. The morning Bible hour messages were presented by Dr. Renald Showers, Friends of Israel ministry. The evening messages were presented by Dr. Kevin Bauder, president of Central Baptist Seminary. Highlights of the conference, including was able to secure a two-story storefront location at 436 Leonard St. NW. The location is just two blocks west of the US 131 freeway.

Helping to lead this new work are Larry and Pat Groat, Baptist Mid-Missions (BMM) missionaries, who have led the Hispanic congregation at City View. Joining the Groats are another BMM missionary couple, Paul and Barb Joles. In their new ministry roles, Paul is serving as the senior pastor and Larry is the associate. Their hope is that the new location will give their congregation a sense of ownership as they take on a greater role in the operations of the ministry.

An open house was held on Sunday, May 24, with dozens in attendance. The congregation has responded well to the move. Recently, two ladies have responded to the need of salvation. The list of people desiring to be baptized has increased.

A wedding was held in April with another planned for July. Several teens and children have expressed a desire to attend summer camp.

Many in the church congregation have provided essential items for the kitchen and bathrooms. Supporting churches and friends have donated chairs, tables, a keyboard, storage cabinets, supplies, and a set of telephones. The MARBC CPR Initiative is continuing to help link this new church to opportunities for physical and financial resources and personnel support.

WITH THE LORD

“Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints.”

– Psalm 116:15

DOROTHY PIELL, age 87, was absent from the body and present with her Lord on Tuesday, May 12, 2009. Dorothy served faithfully for many years as a pastor's wife with her husband, Irvin, including several years at Newhall Baptist Church in Wyoming, Michigan. Irvin preceded Dorothy in death in January 2008. A memorial service was led by her son, Pastor David Piell, and Pastor Mike Eleveld.

WILMA BOPP, age 83, went home to be with her Lord and Savior on Friday, June 5, 2009. Wilma served faithfully alongside her husband, Virgil, during his years of pastoral ministry in Iowa and Michigan and in his ministry as a professor at Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College (now Cornerstone University). A memorial service was led by MARBC Executive Director Ken Floyd and Pastor Tom Rohrer.

MARTIN STROLLE, 96, entered the presence of his Lord Jesus Christ on Thursday, June 11, 2009. Martin served the Lord as a missionary church planter with Hiawatha Baptist Missions (now Continental Baptist Missions). He led several church planting efforts in the Upper Peninsula. He and his wife, Florence (who went to heaven in 2007) were charter members of Blessed Hope Baptist Church in Escanaba, where the memorial service was held. Pastor Lewis Hague and Pastor Bruce Nolen officiated the service. At the memorial service several gave testimonies regarding the Strolles' influence upon their lives. One of the funeral directors involved with the service reminisced when the Strolles came to preplan their funerals in 1986. He was amazed when Martin said, “It will be a glorious day when I die.” And, indeed, it was!

THE MINISTRY OF INTERPAS

One of the important ministries of the MARBC and a vital role of its Executive Director is the assistance of local churches that are seeking a new pastor. It is important that during this time of special need in a church's ministry that wise, spiritual counsel is available.

In addition to assistance from the MARBC, our churches can also receive critical assistance from the specialized ministry called Interpas. This interim pastor ministry was founded by Dr. W. Wilbert Welch in response to the special needs of pastorless churches. Interpas is an independent organization that has a director and a board of directors that oversees its ministry. The current Interpas director is Rev. Tom Dolph.

The Interpas purpose statement declares: "Interpas is an organization of experienced and capable men deeply interested in assisting churches which may need interim pastors." Interpas members have served in dozens of MARBC churches providing encouraging ministry. These interim ministry specialists are committed:

- To assist local churches in a smooth transition between permanent pastors.
- To assist the church in making this interval time one of encouragement, enrichment, growth, unity and spiritual health.
- To provide qualified and tested leadership for a church at a time when it is most needed.
- To provide for the congregation regular and consistent pulpit and teaching ministries.
- To provide for the pastor-less church a mature, spiritual leader who is called to an interim ministry and who is not ambitious to become the senior pastor.

Those serving with Interpas must meet the following criteria:

- A man of God experienced in fruitful church ministries.
- In complete doctrinal harmony with fundamental doctrines and Baptist distinctives.

- In agreement with the autonomy of the local church.
- Possess pastoral skills in teaching and preaching, in working with people who hurt, in conceiving and implementing goals, in working patiently with a volunteer church army and sufficiently pliable so as to mediate differences.
- Capable of initiating positive and encouraging action while also properly recognizing and working with the staff and the elected officers of the church.

Interpas does not pay the salaries of those men serving in interim capacities. They are recompensed for their specialized ministries and expenses by the churches which they serve on the basis of a clear agreement between the interim pastor and the church.

More detailed information concerning Interpas, including a pamphlet on questions most frequently asked, may be obtained by calling or writing director Tom Dolph (616.874.7056 / tjdolph@comcast.net.)
